

Break Bulk & Project Cargo

“I’m super impressed with the crating and care Eastern took to safely move our shipment. Thanks to your team, it arrived in perfect condition!”

— Eastern Customer, Southeast Region, USA

Manufacturing and industrial companies often face the challenge of transporting over-sized cargo. When cumbersome equipment dimensions, heavy machinery weights, or unwieldy product parts don't fit a standard shipping container, Eastern's specialized services can help.

Comprehensive shipping services

To compliment our full host of transportation and brokerage services, Eastern is also uniquely qualified to handle your ad hoc project cargo and break bulk shipments. Our team has years of experience meeting a wide range of transportation requirements, anticipating the variables, and working with our global network of competent partners.

Some industries we serve & cargo we ship:

- Manufacturing equipment
- Energy & solar components
- Mining machinery
- Oversized motorized vehicles
- Industrial construction materials

From the start, Eastern can help!

If you have a bulky cargo project in the pipeline, let us help. We can develop the optimal transport solution and provide protective packing recommendations. Then, Eastern's expert service team can guide the entire process so your cargo arrives safely to its destination.

